

PRICE POSTING

- No price posting at the Washington State Liquor Control Board by brewery, winery or wholesaler.
- Prices are to be set for the entire calendar month.
- Prices can be changed in the first three business days of the month, by all parties, to meet competitive issues.
- Prices must be on file and notarized by the first working day of the month and made available for inspection. Prices must be made available to anyone who requests them.
- ? • Prices can be changed for distress situations; i.e., beer nearing end of code life. Prices can only be reduced on product in distress, not all like items in inventory.
- Quantity discounts are not allowed.

This language suggests an alternative approach to meet the objectives of price posting. Will you please begin the process of drafting legislation to effectuate the actions. The question - mark is my concern this idea could be abused, but lets consider it.
